

Photosynthesis

the process by which green plants use sunlight to create and store foods from carbon dioxide and water with the byproduct of oxygen.

